All NYSED data will be stored in the AWS Cloud to provide consistent security and availability for the NYSESLAT NYSITELL. For secure data transfer, Pearson employs HTTPS, an encrypted method of passing data over the Internet. We use HTTPS to ensure the data is encrypted as it passes from our servers to the client. We appropriately constrain and control data as it passes between components and across connections. On the public Internet, a firewall creates a local area network environment. Pearson laptops have a disk encryption solution to protect all data if the computer is lost or stolen. Some of Pearson's uses of encryption are on the Pearson network by Pearson personnel when accessing remotely.
