

undamental civic knowledge] v o μ

- x Understanding the structure and functions of government, law, and democracy at the federal, state, local, and school levels, and how to participate;
- x Understanding the history of the United States and its role in the world;
- x Understanding the rights and responsibilities of citizens;
- x Understanding the importance of civic participation and the role of the individual in society;
- x Understanding the importance of community and the role of the individual in the community;

Civic Knowledge] v o μ

- x Understanding the structure and functions of government, law, and democracy at the federal, state, local, and school levels, and how to participate;
- x Understanding the history of the United States and its role in the world;
- x Understanding the rights and responsibilities of citizens;
- x Understanding the importance of civic participation and the role of the individual in society;
- x Understanding the importance of community and the role of the individual in the community;

Civic Dispositions] v o μ

- x Valuing equity, inclusivity, diversity, and fairness;
- x Recognizing the need to plan for both current needs and the good of future generations;
- x Empathy, compassion, and respect for the views of people with other opinions and perspectives;
- x Demonstrating a sense of self as an active participant in society, willing to contribute to solving local and/or national problems; and
- x Understanding the importance of civic participation and the role of the individual in society;

Examples of civic experiences] v o μ

- x Participating in school and community governance;
- x Participating in civic activities such as volunteering, attending public meetings, and participating in community projects;
- x Participating in civic education programs such as civics classes, civic education workshops, and civic education campaigns;
- x Participating in civic organizations such as neighborhood associations, parent-teacher organizations, and civic education organizations;
- x Participating in civic activities such as attending public meetings, participating in community projects, and volunteering;